KILLED BY A FALL.

Neck Broken by a Tumble Down a Stairway.Martin Stiney, a Pole boarding with the family of Jacob Williams, on North Chestnut st., fell down a stairway in the house Saturday night and died instantly from the effects, his neck having been broken.During Saturday afternoon Stiney and his twenty-three year old son spent several hours about town, and when his son finally left him at the boarding house at about 5:30 o'clock in the evening Stiney was somewhat under the influence of liquor. He went to bed and was soon in a sound slumber.At about seven o'clock in the evening Mr.
Williams and a couple of friends were sitting on the steps in front of the house when they heard the noise of a heavy body falling in the hallway. They hurried into the house and found Stiney lying at the foot of the stairway leading from the first to the second story. The body was doubled up on the floor and the feet rested on the steps.A messenger immediately summoned Dr. C.
S. Phillips, who responded promptly and pronounced the victim dead. He found the neck had been broken in the fall. Stiney had evidently left his bed in a dazed condition and missed his footing at the top of the stairway.The victim was 42 years of age. He had been separated from his family for the past eighteen months. His wife and three children live on Gilbert street. The youngest child is 15 years old. The body has been removed to the family residence and the funeral will take place to-morrow. Interment will be made in the Annapolis cemetery.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

A Former Resident of This Town Run Down at Shamokin.Alexander Ulschaker, aged 21 years, was run down by a train and instantly killed on the P. & R. Railway at Shamokin, Saturday night. His companion, Cyrus Geazy, sustained a fracture of several ribs and severe bruises, but was not dangerously injured.
Ulschaker was a son of Solomon Ulschaker, of West Strawberry alley, this town, and about two years ago worked in Dech's wheelwright shop here. The remains will be brought to town to-morrow by Undertaker E. J. Davies, and taken to the White Church cemetery, Risington, for interment.

Revision for Dreyfus.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The French army circles have been thrown into a state of mingled rage and consternation by a decision of the cabinet this morning in favor of a revision of the trial upon which Capt. Dreyfus was condemned for life to Devil's Island. The revision is made on a claim put forth by Dreyfus' friends that the conviction was secured on a document forged in the military circles.

A Western Trip.

John H. Martin, the local agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, accompanied by his wife, left town this morning for a western trip which will include a visit to the Omaha exposition. They will be absent about two weeks. George H. Everett, of Wapwallopen, Luzerne county, will successor the selling of the "Pottsville cane backs" during Mr. Martin's absence.

Beat a Woman.

George Karlel was put under $300 bail Saturday night, by Justice Toomey, on a charge of assaulting a woman named Mikolens Samanski, who went into a saloon to get a can of beer.

Kendrick House Free Lunch.

Engineer Corps Team Wins.

Much rivalry was exhibited at East Creek on Saturday at the base ball game of the engineer corps team against the clerks in the Lehigh Valley office. Both sides put forth earnest efforts to win and for several innings it was a nip and tuck contest for the supremacy.
The engineers finally outplayed their opponents and scored a victory by defeating them to the tune of 23 to 18.Charlatan March (Sonne's latest) at Braum's.While two Hungarians named Paulack and Sank, of Wm. Penn, were attending a wedding on Saturday night, their homes were visited by robbers. The former was relieved of $43, which he had secreted in a trunk; while the latter is minus $66 and two silver watches.

There Were no Services.

There were no services at the Trinity Reformed church last evening on account of the absence of the pastor, Rev. Robert O'Boyle, who accompanied the funeral of George Dallas to Tanques.

Coroner's Inquest.

Deputy Coroner Manley and a jury held an inquest on the death of John Flock, who died on Thursday last, from an overdose of laudanum, and the following verdict was rendered: "That the said John Flock's death was caused by an overdose of laudanum, which he had taken to produce sleep."All kinds of vegetables and flower seeds, and plants at Payne's nurseries, Girardville.

Why the Band Was Not Present.

EDITOR HERALD:—The Grant Band is subject to a great deal of criticism owing to the fact that they were not present at the funeral of the deceased George Dallas yesterday. The criticism is wholly unfounded, and it has been stated authoritatively that the only reason which can be assigned for the absence of the band, was the lack of a request.

A Driver Killed.

A Polish young man named Anthony Bragader, employed as a driver at Packer No. 4 colliery and residing at East Creek No. 2, was instantly killed in the mine Saturday night by falling under a trip. The cars crushed him so badly that his neck, back, legs and arms were broken. It was the young man's first day in the mines.

Recruit Stricken.

Mrs. William Walton, of St. Nicholas, has received a telegram stating that her son, Matthew, is dangerously ill at Fortrose Monroe, Va. He was stricken down while on dress parade one day last week and has since been in the hospital. Walton was enlisted at Hazelton.

Tunnel Nearly Finished.

The large tunnel that is being driven from the Buck Mountain vein of the St. Nicholas colliery to the Buck Mountain vein of the Maple Hill colliery, is almost completed. The rock through which it is being driven is very hard.INSPECTORS

A SEARCHING INVESTIGATION.

This Is What the President Urges of the Men He Has Selected For That Duty. That Punishment May Follow Any Cases of Neglect Unearthed.Washington, Sept. 26.—The commission appointed by President McKinley to investigate the administration of the war department in relation to its conduct of the Hispano-American war began its labors formally today. The commission effected an organization Saturday by electing General Grenville M. Dodge president, Mr. Richard Weightman secretary and Major Stephen C. Mills, of the regular army, recorder.The full commission is as follows: Major General J. A. M. Smith, of Iowa; Colonel J. A. Sexton, of Illinois; Captain E. P. Howell, of Georgia; Major General J. W. Wilson, chief of engineers of the United States army; Charles Denby, of Indiana, late minister to China; ex-Governor John A.
Woodbury, of Vermont; ex-Governor James A. Beaver, of Pennsylvania; Major General A. McD. McCook, U. S. A.
(retired); Dr. Phineas S. Conner, of Cincinnati.The president is understood to be thoroughly pleased with the personnel of the commission. It was his effort to secure as members of the commission men of the high character and standing in whose opinions and judgment the country would have all confidence. He desired also to have represented on the board all phases of public and political feeling, every section of the country and all classes of business—professional, commercial and military. The men whom he has appointed are possessed of wide and varied experience, many of them having served with distinguished honor to themselves either in the Union or Confederate armies. The president feels assured that the verdict of the commission, whatever it may be, in the inquiry it is about to conduct, will be accepted and approved by all right minded and right thinking American citizens.That it is the president's desire that the inquiry should be rigid and searching was indicated by his statement to the commission when it assembled at the White House for a conference with him on Saturday. No limit is placed by the president upon the scope of the investigation. It is to include every department of the army, and the president expects that the commission in advance that he will afford every facility in his power for the prosecution of the most searching inquiry into every part of the administration of the war.Addressing the commission the president said, among other things:
"Gentlemen, before suggesting the matters which shall come before you for investigation, I desire to express my appreciation to each of you for your willingness to accept the patriotic service to which you have been invited. You are to perform one of the highest public duties that can fall to a citizen, and your usefulness in understanding it makes me profoundly grateful."There has been in many quarters severe criticism of the conduct of the war with Spain. Charges of criminal neglect of the soldiers in camp and in the field and hospital and in the transports have been so persistent that, whether true or false, they have made a deep impression upon the country.
It is my earnest desire that you shall thoroughly investigate these charges, and make the fullest examination of the administration of the war department in all its branches, with the view to establishing the truth or falsity of the accusations. I put upon you no limit to the scope of your investigation.
Of all departments connected with the army I invite the closest scrutiny and examination, and shall afford every facility for the most searching inquiry.
The records of the war department and the assistance of its officers shall be subject to your call."I cannot impress upon you too strongly my wish that your investigation shall be so thorough and complete that your report, when made, will fix the responsibility for any failure or fault, by reason of neglect, incompet-ency or misadministration, upon the offices and bureau responsible therefor —if it be found that the evils complained of have existed."The people of the country are entitled to know whether or not the citizens who so promptly responded to the call of duty have been neglected or misused or maltreated by the government to which they so willingly gave their services. If there have been wrongs committed, the wrongdoers must not escape conviction and punishment."Johnson's Café, 30 East Centre Street.

Died at the Almshouse.

John Swandowski, a Pole upwards of 50 years of age, died at the almshouse at Schuylkill Haven on Saturday from general debility.
The remains were brought to town today and interred in the Polish cemetery. Swa-dowski was a well known figure in this town for several years. His body was bent with feebleness and he went about the town with the aid of a cane, peddling matches. About two months ago he was forced to seek attendance at the almshouse.Geraniums, fuchsias, pansies, daisies, roses etc., for spring planting at Payne's nurseries, Girardville. Tuberoses and gladioli bulbs.

Off for the Season.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Tenney left town this morning for Newcomerstown, Ohio, where they will join the Mindrop Metropolitan Comedy Company under an engagement for thirty-five weeks, touring the Western and Southern states.

Peace Disturber Arrested.

William Malacki was arrested by Policeman Butler on Saturday night for disturbing the peace and settled the case by paying the bushel fine and costs.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Imposing Ceremonies at the Funeral of George Dallas.The funeral of George Dallas, the young regular army recruit who died at Camp Lehigh Springs, took place from the residence of the parents on East Centre street at noon yesterday and attracted a very large attendance. Major Jennings Council No. 307, Jr.
O. U. A. M., and the Keystone Social Club, each of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body and large delegations from Watkins Veterans Post No. 140, G. A. R., Henry Hornet Post No. 40, Sons of Veterans, and the 4th Reg't. Drum Corps were also present.
Services were held at the residence, Rev.
Robert O'Boyle, pastor of the Trinity Reformed church, officiating, and were of an impressive character. The pastor selected his text for the address at the services from Ezekiel 32:29.—"The first born of thy seed thou shalt give unto me" and his remarks made a profound impression. The funeral proceeded to Tanques on a special P. & R. Railway train at 12:30 and nearly two hundred people constituted the cortege, including the drum corps and many representatives of the organizations named. There were twelve pall bearers, namely: John Bissel, late of Roosevelt's Rough Riders; John Hughes, G. Meade Peters and James Emanuel, volunteers home on furloughs; Alfred Richards, Michael Fairley, Wm. Blumenthal and Gordon Brown, members of the Jr. O. U. A. M., and Michael Kirk, James Close, Wm. Jenkins and Patrick Maher, of the Keystone Social Club.
There were also four flower bearers: Messrs.
W. J. James, David Daddow, Anthony Garland and Michael Campbell. Upon arrival of the funeral at Tanques it was met by the Jr. O. U. A. M. Council of that town and escorted to the Odd Fellows' cemetery, where the remains were interred. At the dual service Rev. Robert O'Boyle was assisted by Rev. Fisher, pastor of the First Reformed church at Tanques, and upon the conclusion of the services the military taps were sounded over the grave, Peter Schoppe, of this town, being the cornetist. The people of town who attended the funeral returned on a special train that left Tanques at 7 p. m.The funeral of John Flock took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence on West Oak street and, in addition to a large number of relatives and friends, was attended by Rescue Hook & Ladder Company No. 1, of which the deceased was a member. The services were held in the Primitive Methodist church on South Jadin street, Rev. James Moore officiating, and the remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.The funeral of John Gathier, who died at Salt Lake City, Utah, will take place tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, from the residence of Miss Margaret Gathier, on First street, Port Carbon. Interment will be made in the cemetery at that place. Friends and relatives of the deceased are respectfully invited to attend. Shenandoah Lodge No. 511, F. & A. M., will attend in a body leaving on the 12:27 p. m. P. & R. train.Mrs. Pauline Boyer, wife of Milton W.
Boyer, was buried today, the funeral taking place from the family residence at No. 204 West Lloyd street. Many relatives and friends from Pottsville and other towns of the county were in attendance, as well as members of the Ladies' Aid Society, auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans and G. A. R. No. 6, True Americans. The funeral proceeded to the German Lutheran church on West Cherry street, Rev. John Grubler, the pastor, officiating at the service. The remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.An infant child of Dennis Mangano expired at the family residence, on East Lloyd street, last evening.The funeral of Mrs. George Jones, of Kilguswan, took place yesterday morning.
The services were held at the family residence, Rev. C. H. Higginson, of the Mahanoey City P. M. church, officiating. The remains were brought to town and interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.It will pay you to read Ike Orkin's announcements on the fourth page.

A SCURVY STRICKEN BARK.

Fessie's Crew Reduced to Four Men Able to Be About.Philadelphia, Sept. 26.—The German bark Olga arrived at the Delaware breakwater last night for orders from Sumarang, Java, laden with sugar.
She brought to a close a voyage of strange fatalities, having only a few of the original officers on board, Captain Dreyer, her commander, and five others having died of that dread disease, scurvy, which so often breaks out on board vessels from the far east.
The Olga made sail from Sourabaya on April 3, and met with the usual experiences until when about two months out from port. Here the disease made its first appearance, and one by one the crew were overtaken, until the ship's crew was reduced to four men able to be about, Captain Dreyer was among the first to be stricken down with the horrible disease. He lasted only a few days, suffering the greatest agony and praying for death.
The remains were brought in a canvas bag and consigned to the deep.It was then that the mate took charge, and he, too, was stricken down, leaving in charge of the vessel men with only scant or no knowledge of navigation. A consultation was held and it was decided to go on board away for the nearest port, and on investigation her original destination for orders, St. Michaels, was determined to be the one to make for. Here she arrived July 29, with her crew nearly dead. Medical aid was at once summoned, and with difficulty the sick men were removed to the hospital. The vessel's owners were communicated with, and another captain was sent to take charge of her.After remaining at St. Michaels for three weeks the men were pronounced sufficiently recovered to go on board again, and the fateful voyage was continued.The Olga, upon her arrival, reported that all on board were well.DOUBTFUL

HOLLOPETER A THORN IN THE SIDE.

The Nomination of the Shenandoah Lawyer is Causing Both the Republican and Democratic Congressional Candidates Much Uneasiness and Worries.

Special Herald Correspondence.

Pottsville, Sept. 26.—All nominations have been made, with the exception of Legislative candidates in the First, Second and Third districts by the Prohibitionists, whose county ticket is complete with these three exceptions, which will be made later on. There will be four county tickets in the field—Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Socialist Labor parties—so there can be no complaint on that score.The political campaign in Schuylkill county this fall will differ materially from those that have heretofore graced the political chess-board, to the extent that the result is shrouded in deep mystery. Of course, both the Republican and Democratic managers profess to believe that their respective forces will be successful, while the Prohibitionists are equally as confident so far as their candidate for Governor is concerned.
They claim that the independent voter—who is a thorn in the side of the average politician—will be greatly in evidence in November and will materially swell the ranks of the cold water enthusiasts. This belief has taken such strong hold upon the third party managers that they are already perpetrating a plurality in this county in favor of their candidate for Governor, Dr.
Swallow.THE INDEPENDENT VOTER.
While there are few outside of the little band of Prohibition patriots who place any credence in this bold prophecy, nevertheless there are indications noticeable on the surface that point to a large independent vote this fall. In other words, party lines will be broken and the voter will consider the personality of the candidate rather than party principles. This will not be confined to any one particular party, but both the Republican and Democratic ranks will suffer, if we may accept the mutterings of discontent heard on all sides. It is this state of affairs that is causing the leaders much concern, and makes it difficult for political prophets to forecast the result with any degree of accuracy.Especially is this true so far as the Congressional contest is concerned. There are four candidates in the field, a state of affairs that is unprecedented in the annals of Schuylkill county politics. The independent voter, therefore, whether his ranks be numerically large or otherwise, should find little difficulty in satisfying himself as to the proper candidate to represent him in Congress.

THEIR HAVEN OF REST.

The big town north of the mountain has fared exceptionally well, and the Shenandoah "quill pushers" can no longer ridicule the county seat for its haphazard propensities.
With two candidates for Congress hailing from the one town, what more can be asked?
S. G. M. Hollopeter, Esq., has been nominated by the Prohibitionists for Congress, and Justice of the Peace Pierce Wankler covets the same office as the standard-bearer of the Socialist Labor party. In fact, I am told every nominee of the latter party hails from Shenandoah. While the two Congressional candidates in question have been nominated upon platforms that are somewhat at variance with their individuality, they are both known to be in "sympathy with the President's war policy" and will give the "administration loyal support" in the halls of Congress.The personal friends of candidate Hollopeter are especially pleased with his nomination, and they are not by any means confined to the ranks of the cold water enthusiasts.
There are hundreds of Democrats and Republicans, who do not care to vote for their old political antagonists, and are disheartened with their party nominees for Congress, who look upon the genial and ever happy Samuel as their political "haven of rest," and will cast their votes accordingly. There are many Republicans who would consider it almost a sin to vote for a Democrat, no matter what may be their grievance against their party nominee, whose candidacy would not be disturbed in the least in voting the Prohibition ticket. The same may be said of the holier-than-thou Democrat. Viewing the Congressional contest in this light, the only question to be determined, in predicting the result in November, is as to which of the prominent candidates—Brumm and Ryan —will suffer the most from this dissatisfied element of the two parties. I have my own opinion, but leave the reader to work out his own solution.

A MODEL CANDIDATE.

Mr. Hollopeter, I am informed, did not seek the nomination, but it was one of those cases in which the office sought the man. This may seem strange to the uninitiated, but not so if you know my lawyer friend as I know him. He has been offered as a sacrifice for the cause of the abstainers so long, that he looks upon running for office as a labor of love, but quietly and confidentially tells his friends to vote for the other fellow. This time, however, I am told he is a full-fledged candidate and will seek votes instead of driving them away. He will take the stump and explain his position on the tariff and financial question, territorial expansion and other live issues of the day.Mr. Hollopeter is sound on the financial question, wants both gold and silver, and plenty of it; believes the government should hold all the territory it has acquired, and secure as much more as it can, and if Spain doesn't like it give her another spanking; he is an uncompromising friend of the laboring man, and favors a tariff that will give the American workmen steady employment, eight hours work and ten hours pay; having lived in the coal region since the "mind of man knoweth naught," he will see to it that the hard coal boomers secure what they want from the Navy department. Mr. Hollopeter is a model candidate, and has the happy faculty of adapting himself to every situation. That is why his opponents look upon his strength as an unknown quantity, and express much apprehension of the result in November. Dear reader, keep your eye on Samuel!One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr.
Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.
